

Graduate School of Decision Sciences

University of Konstanz

We Offer:

- A three-year interdisciplinary PhD Programme in Decision Sciences
- A training programme in line with the highest internationally recognised standards, covering our research areas:
 - A: Behavioural Decision Making
 - B: Intertemporal Choice and Markets
 - C: Political Decisions and Institutions
 - D: Information Processing and Statistical Analysis
- A University and a Graduate School supported by Germany's Excellence Initiative
- Internationally renowned faculty and visiting professors
- A worldwide network of partner institutions
- Full scholarships and top career placements
- One of Germany's prime locations for study and research.

Entry Requirements:

A Master's degree in the social sciences (e.g. in economics, political science, psychology or sociology) or in a quantitative subject (e.g. in computer science, mathematics or statistics).

Our programme is designed for candidates with exceptional intellectual abilities and a strong desire to pursue academic research.

Application Deadline:

15th April for admission in October

How to Apply:

Please visit: <http://www.gsds.uni-konstanz.de/how-to-apply/>

Further Information:

<http://www.gsds.uni-konstanz.de>

